

AMENDMENTS TO N. C. ELECTRICAL CODE VOLUME IV
ADOPTED ON JUNE 12, 1990

1. Add new Section 101.8 as follows: (Effective date of October 1, 1990)

“101.8 Temporary Power

1. Scope – The provisions of this article apply to the utilization of portions of the permanent wiring system with a building to facilitate construction.
2. Definition – Responsible Agent – for the purpose of this Article, the responsible agent shall be the entity(s) who, in fulfillment of contractual obligation or otherwise, is empowered to control and supervise all construction activities. The suitability of the responsible agent shall be at the sole discretion of the authority having jurisdiction.
3. Other Articles – Except as modified in this Article, all other provisions of this Code shall apply.
4. Uses Permitted – Utilization of portions of the permanent wiring system to facilitate construction shall be permitted and limited to those instances in which the use of same is deemed to be of reasonable necessity.

Reasonable necessity shall include any of the following:

- (a) The utilization of permanently installed HVAC equipment to maintain environmental conditions necessary to facilitate the installation of environmentally sensitive materials, or finishes in accordance with the manufacturer’s instructions.
 - (b) Where the distance between the construction site electrical service and any interior point at floor level is in excess of 200 feet following the most direct route that an extension cord could reasonably be routed.
 - (c) Other situations as allowed by special permission.
5. Uses Prohibited – Utilization of portions of the permanent wiring systems during construction for any purpose other than testing and verification shall not be permitted where such use is solely for convenience. In no case shall any portions of the permanent wiring be energized for construction purposes until such portions have been inspected and released by the appropriate electrical inspector.
